

Vera Feguš, dr. med. spec. general medicine

After completing her studies of medicine she began working at the ZD Adolfa Drolca in Maribor, where she worked in various clinics of which the longest time, 30 years in Oncology dispensary of ZD Adolfa Drolca Maribor. After postgraduate studies in social medicine and specialization in general medicine, she obtained the title of specialist in general medicine.

In past she has participated in conferences and meetings with scientific contributions in which she dealt with the issues of treatment of cancer patients in general medical practice and at the patient's home, palliative treatment and care. In 2003 she was assigned to the post of Head of the Oncology team in the dispensary at ZD Adolfa Drolca in Maribor. Medical Chamber of Slovenia appointed her in 1996 for a mentor trainee of family medicine . In 2005 she became a mentor for students of the Faculty of Medicine at University of Ljubljana in the field of family medicine. Three years later she received the title of teacher skills in the field of family medicine at the Medical Faculty of the University of Maribor. In year 2008, readers of the magazine VIVA choose her for a title »doctor of the year«. In the same year she retired and took over the plese as a president of Styria – Maribor Cancer Society. In year 2010 Government of the Republic of Slovenia appointed her for a representative in the council of Mladinski dom Maribor.