

Sandra Hlebš

Sandra Hlebš is the Programmes and Partnerships Manager at the British Council in Slovenia. At the core of her work are social enterprise and creative economy. She is raising awareness, consulting and advising on creative industries and social enterprise, with focus on development of effective policy, strategies and action. Her work on international projects such as Creative Cities, Future City Jobs and Centres enabled her to collaborate in the areas of social innovation and social enterprise and familiarise with conditions, ideas and best practices in Europe as well as other countries around the world. She holds a B.S. in international economics and marketing. She is an author and a co-author of several articles and publications in above mentioned areas, published in Slovenia and abroad.

Sandra Hlebš

je vodja programov in partnerstva na Britanskem svetu v Sloveniji. Njeno delo je osredotočeno na socialno podjetništvo, kreativne industrije in programe za mlade; pogosto v medsebojnem prepletanju. Na omenjenih področjih ozavešča in svetuje, s poudarkom na razvoju učinkovitih politik, strategije in delovanja. Njeno delo na mednarodnih projektih, kot so Creative Cities, Future City Jobs, Centres in mnogimi drugi, ji je omogočilo sodelovanje na področju socialnih inovacij in socialnega podjetništva ter se spoznati s pogoji, idejami in najboljšimi praksami v Evropi, kot tudi drugod po svetu. Študirala in diplomirala je na področju mednarodne ekonomije in trženja. Je avtorica in soavtorica člankov in publikacij z omenjenih področij, objavljenih v Sloveniji in tujini.