

Simona Šarotar Žižek, PhD, Assistant Professor

PhD. Simona Šarotar Žižek, Assistant Professor, University of Maribor, Faculty of Economic and business, Razlagova 14, Maribor, SI 2000, Slovenia, simona.sarotar-zizek@uni-mb.si; PhD. in Economic and Business Sciences. She completed up her theoretical knowledge permanently by her practical work. In 1998 she was employed at (at the time) European's biggest clothes factory Mura (based in Slovenia) as the assistant director in the department for Total Quality Management. In 2004 she became secretary of the Managing Board of the mentioned company; later she became the Head of Strategic Development. After 9 years in Mura, she joined University of Maribor, Faculty of Economics and Business in 2007, now as Assistant Professor of Management, specialized in Human Resource Management. She is both author and/or co-author, often by invitation, of several articles published in various international and Slovenian journals and/or presented at scientific and professional conferences. She also authored and/or co-authored several scientific monographs and chapters in scientific and expert monograph. Otherwise, she co-chaired the international project Chance4Change; she also participated in other international project such as Inolink, Culture4leadership: A research of intercultural leadership competencies in four different EU-countries. She was/is actively involved in research projects. She works also as consultant for companies.