Slovenia, January 2025

20th IRDO International Conference INNOVATIVE, SUSTAINABLE & SOCIALLY RESPONSIBLE SOCIETY 2025:

Personal responsibility as a part of social responsibility and sustainability

June 11-12, 2025, Slovenia, EU, ONLINE, www.irdo.si, conference@irdo.si

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

You are cordially invited to participate in the 20th IRDO international conference INNOVATIVE, SUSTAINABLE and SOCIALLY RESPONSIBLE SOCIETY 2025: Personal responsibility as a part of social responsibility and sustainability, which will take place on June 11 and 12, 2025 – Online and Hybrid. You can participate as a contributor or an observer.

The organisers are IRDO – Institute for the Development of Social Responsibility, the University of Maribor and the Slovenian Society for Systems Research.

What will we try to discover through 20th IRDO international conference?

- People compose society and organisations, influencing and being influenced by social responsibility. Personal accountability drives collective outcomes, shaping communities and systems. Reflecting on these dynamics reveals the power of personal interactions in fostering change.
- Digital, personal, and social responsibility shape interactions between people (P2P) and organisations (P2O). Choices in the digital space, influenced by Artificial Intelligence, shift relations, influencing ethics, trust, and societal norms in a profoundly interconnected world. Understanding and executing responsible behaviour is essential in fostering a balanced digital society.
- Precarious work challenges personal and social responsibility, urging individuals to adapt while advocating systemic change. The key challenge lies in striking a balance between the need for flexibility in the labour market and ensuring social security for young people so that they do not find themselves trapped in a cycle of uncertainty.
- The Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive (CSRD) applies to large companies to boost transparency and hold companies accountable for their environmental, social, and governance (ESG) impacts. The reporting must align with the European Sustainability Reporting Standards (ESRS).
- Systems thinking helps advancing from passively participating in our world using a linear perspective to co-develop us and our society by developing the capacity for holistic oversight, which includes interconnections and feedback loops. Aware of these loops, individuals see actions trigger delayed reactions, shaping personal and collective responsibility. This transition is necessary to effectively handle the complex difficulties that our increasingly interconnected globe is experiencing.

Action and learning for a more innovative, sustainable, and socially responsible society are urgent. By joining the conference, you will help to co-create the scientific-based wisdom for renewing our unsustainable systems, from societies and communities to businesses and ourselves.

Therefore, we kindly invite you to participate in the conference to share your experiences, views, and suggestions with researchers, top consultants, experts, and experienced practitioners from around the globe. Young authors and students are warmly welcome.

So far, more than 1,500 authors from all over the world have participated in 19 IRDO conferences. Proceedings of previous conferences can be freely obtained here: <https://www.irdo.si/en/irdo-conference/>

Please contribute, join us and report on your findings and suggestions.

You are kindly invited,

On behalf of the Program and Organisational Committees of the 20th IRDO Conference,

Prof. Emer. Matjaž Mulej, PhD, PhD,
University of Maribor, Faculty of Economics and Business,
President of the IRDO Research & Expert Council and
Chair of the IRDO Conference Programme Committee
